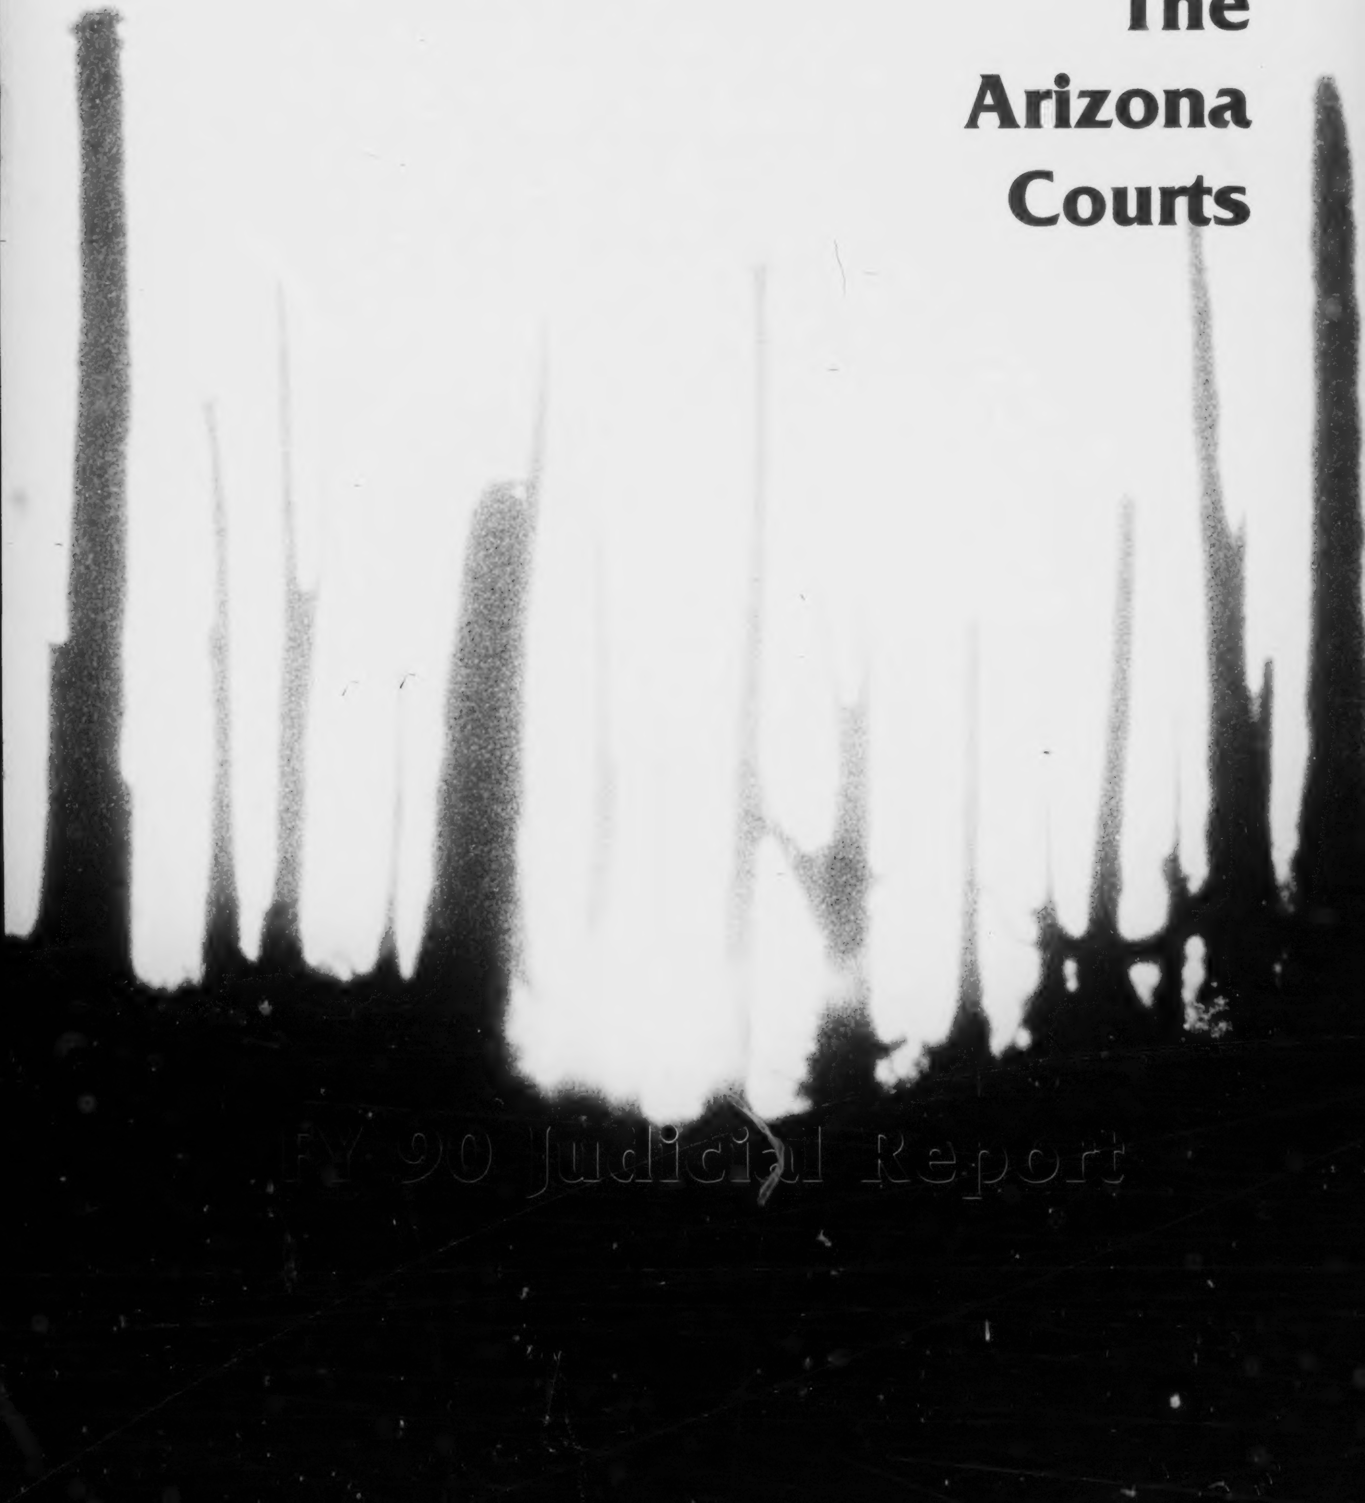
The Arizona Courts



FY 90 Judicial Report

The Arizona Supreme Court's Court Reform Plan

In Response to the Commission on the Courts Recommendations

GOAL: To provide the citizens of Arizona with a court system that is accessible, that is managed effectively and that is an economical organization.

The Arizona Court System will be a three-tier structure:

- The Supreme Court
- The Court of Appeals
- A Unified Trial Court

MANAGEMENT AND STAFFING

- Management of the Arizona Courts should be the responsibility of the Chief Justice working through the Administrative Director of the Courts at the state level, the Presiding Judge and Court Administrator at the local level.
- Future judicial vacancies should be filled by merit selection process.
- A judicial performance review program should be developed.
- Judicial qualifications should be increased reflecting the responsibilities of the position.
- Professionalism at all levels of the court structure should be enhanced.

COURT OPERATIONS—RESOLVING DISPUTES

- Innovative alternative dispute resolution programs should be developed.
- Effectiveness of court-annexed arbitration should be enhanced.
- An Office of Public Dispute Resolution should be established to provide assistance in resolving disputes utilizing all forms of dispute resolution.

ENHANCING PRODUCTIVITY

- Court case processing standards should be adopted.
- Case flow management techniques should be adopted.
- Court control and management of all case-related activities should be in place.
- Pilot projects and studies should be undertaken to determine the effectiveness of available technology for courts at all levels.
- Pro-bono work by lawyers should be encouraged.
- On-line data bases for Supreme and Appellate Court decisions should be established.

ISSUES – CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM/ LEGAL NEEDS OF CHILDREN AND FAMILIES

- The Arizona Rules of Criminal Procedure should be modified to streamline pretrial proceedings.
- A youthful offender program should be developed as an alternative sentencing option for juveniles convicted of crimes in adult court.
- All judges should enforce case processing and speedy trial rules.
- Post conviction proceedings should be streamlined.
- Changes should be made to enhance the quality of service to children and families.
- A comprehensive effort should be undertaken to protect the victims of domestic abuse.
- Expedited case processing for domestic relations cases, utilizing mediation when possible, should be established.

ACCESS/INFORMATION TO THE USERS OF THE COURT

- Public education programs should be developed.
- The judicial system's responsiveness to the public should be enhanced.
- Statewide filing system should be developed.

FISCAL ISSUES

- The entire court system should become state funded with July, 1995, as the target date.
- Statewide funding proposal for technology and automation should be developed.
- Judicial salaries should be increased to attract and retain the most qualified individuals to the bench.

The FY 90 Arizona Judicial Report is presented in an "Executive Summary" format. Narratives and charts represent summary data to provide a broad overview and understanding of the Arizona courts.

Detailed, specific information on individual courts is available within the FY 90 Arizona Courts' DATA REPORT. This report can be obtained by contacting the Public Information Officer, Administrative Office of the Courts, 1314 North 3rd Street, Phoenix, Arizona, 85004.

So far as the individual is concerned, a constitutional government is as good as its courts.
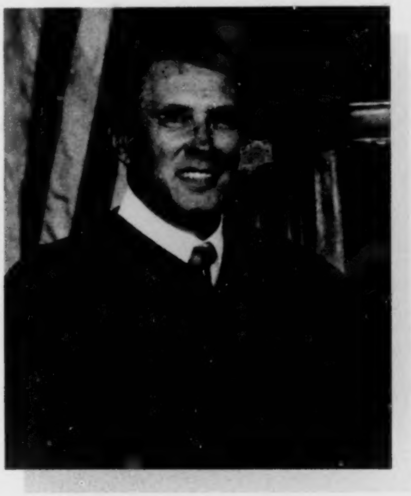
No better, no worse.

– Woodrow Wilson

Chief Justice's Message



I am pleased to present the fiscal year 1990 Arizona Judicial Report. Two years ago, I made a promise to the Arizona Legislature. It was a promise that the Arizona court system would begin a multi-year, multi-faceted plan to improve the efficiency, productivity and the public's access of the courts. The system would operate more like a business and do a better job in collecting fines, fees and other monies owed to courts resulting from judgments.

Last year I was able to report that the court system collected $84 million - $13 million more than the previous year. One reason for this was the emphasis the courts have placed on making people accountable for satisfying court ordered obligations.

In this report you will see that the trend is continuing. In fiscal year 1990, revenues for courts statewide exceeded the $95 million mark. What really is the bottom line of this added revenue? Even though some of these revenues will aid the efficiency of the courts in new automation and management systems, the real bottom line is that justice is being served. Orders issued by courts are being carried out. I feel this is a credit to the creativity and innovation our courts have shown in operating with increased efficiency.

Looking at the size, structure and operation of the court system, it's evident that we have been successful in moving toward our goal of a more efficient system, one that is responsive to the needs of the public. But we have a long way to go. The courts face many challenges.

To help meet these challenges we are in the midst of court reform in Arizona. We have been talking about major changes in our court system for a couple of years and there is a large scale effort underway to implement changes. However, large theoretical changes don't mean much to the people who find it hard to access court services.

Court reform proposals point out that the public wants better access to courts. We can improve access by breaking down barriers that keep people from using court services or invoking their rights as citizens. This might include physical barriers but it also includes language barriers, the lack of proper information, the inability to afford court services and the inability to communicate with the right person.

Based on the accomplishments of the past year, we can see improved public access is a matter of building on an attitude... and that is providing quality service to the citizens of our communities.

Court Reform

Ultimately it is the public that the courts serve. A major emphasis that flourished in 1990 is the involvement of the public with the administrative workings of the court system.

This effort began two years ago with the Commission on the Courts, which was a blue ribbon panel of citizens and professionals that studied the entire state court system and made recommendations for improvement. The Commission presented some 50 recommendations to the Supreme Court in 1989, of which nearly all were accepted.

Even though the Commission finished its project, the real work of implementing the proposals is our next challenge. A new committee - the Committee on Court Reform, meeting for the first time in March – was established to oversee how these changes will take place. This committee, also a mixture of citizens and professionals, is responsible for developing plans of action for each recommendation the Supreme Court approved.

A major focus of the judiciary is our communities. For that reason, citizen advisory committees are being established in each county as part of the reform process. The local judicial advisory committees will act as a local resource in court reform efforts, will assist in disseminating information to the community and will give us an indication of the community response to issues.

This is the place where things are going to happen if they happen at all in court reform. If all else fails in court reform, the courts have accomplished something by the formation of these committees. They will be the eyes and ears of the presiding judge in the county. They will know what's going on in the community. They are the ones who can say "this reform will fit or won't fit in this community." They are sensitive to what's happening. We hope the committees will continue long after the court reform work is done.

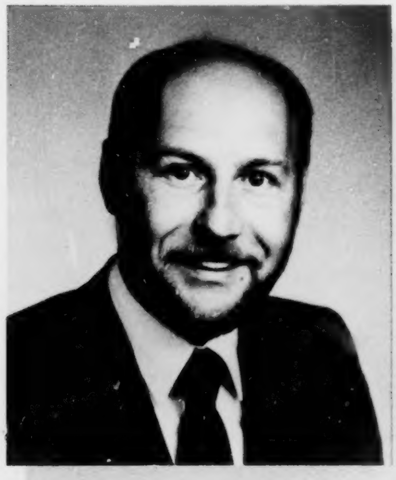
When I told the Legislature that the courts would increase revenue collection, the entire Arizona judiciary accepted this as a challenge. It's a challenge that is being met. In 1990, I presented a formal challenge to Arizona's judges and courts - Challenge `91. This program will reward court employees who think of the best ways to increase the public's access to their courts. Challenge `91 has a goal to help people who find it hard to access court services - by having court employees walk in the shoes of the people who use the system.

This is our quest for 1991 – to develop additional ways to maintain and increase citizens' respect for the judiciary and improve the access the public has to the judicial system. It will sensitize people who work in the courts to an even greater extent, on the needs of the public. After all, courts exist to serve the citizens of our state. As servants to the public, we owe it to the citizens of Arizona to preserve justice, allow for greater accessibility and to build the best possible court system within our means.

Frank X. Gordon, Jr.
Chief Justice



As the Chief Justice points out, the court system is setting goals and working to serve the public by providing better access to its services. A review of the accomplishments of the courts in 1990 is evidence that the courts have started this process...

WINTER

Child Support

Greater access to the courts' services means a better understanding of court procedures. The year began with a perfect example as improved child support guidelines were issued.

Three years ago the Supreme Court established child support guidelines to provide a uniform method of determining the amount of child support payments ordered by a court. In working with the guidelines over the years, it was evident that simplification and clarification of the guidelines was needed.

The new guidelines are simpler and easier to understand and should expedite the process of setting child support obligations statewide.

This is an important and notable step. Arizona has not performed well in collecting child support for too long and in the long run it's the children that suffer. We look forward to continued improvement in 1991.

SPRING

24-hour hotline

Confusion and lack of information is often a stumbling block for people who must deal with the courts and government. And when children are involved, confusion can lead to desperation. To help remedy this, the Arizona Legislature passed a comprehensive Child Protection Act which included provisions to streamline monitoring procedures and the dissemination of information on cases. The Act also:

- requires the Department of Economic Security and the Arizona Supreme Court to implement monitoring procedures and training programs to ensure that both the DES and the juvenile courts are in compliance with Arizona and federal statutes;

- and, establishes a Parent Assistance Program within the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) and requires the AOC to establish parent assistance offices in Pima and Maricopa Counties. The purpose of the program is to provide information, via a 24-hour telephone hotline, to parents or guardians in understanding the process of removal of a child from the home.

The AOC is "gearing up" to implement the Parent Assistance Program and the telephone hotline in early 1991. The program should be of great benefit to many people who are confused about the child protection system.

SUMMER

Arizona Judicial Council

There have been many milestones for the Arizona court system in the recent past and the summer started with another - the first meeting of the newly-fashioned Arizona Judicial Council (AJC).

The new Council was born from the restructuring of the Council on Judicial Administration (COJA). In the past three years, working through COJA, the Supreme Court has realized how important it is to have the direct input and advice from judges throughout the state. Now as our court system grows and takes on new responsibilities and challenges, the duties and scope of the system's administrative body must also expand.

Through its membership and the membership on its committees, the Council represents all levels of the Arizona court system and includes public members.

Formation of the AJC by the Supreme Court, which has administrative supervision over all courts in the state, is in response to a recommendation by the Commission on the Courts. The Commission recommended that a Council be established to help relieve some of the administrative tasks of the Supreme Court.

The Chief Justice has said that the significance of the Council's first meeting went beyond the agenda. It signifies the first major step toward court reform and an integrated court system.

Defensive Driving

In July it became official - all Arizonans can now choose to attend a defensive driving program once every two years when charged with certain driving violations.

A statewide defensive driving tracking system went into effect July 1 that will keep records on drivers who attend defensive driving programs anywhere in the state. In its previous two sessions the Arizona Legislature has given authority to the Arizona Supreme Court to operate the tracking system and certify and monitor defensive driving schools serving as court diversion programs.

In the past, different jurisdictions followed different rules in allowing drivers to attend defensive driving schools to avoid court penalties. As a result, drivers could take a course many times in one jurisdiction or not at all in others. The new system will allow for a consistent measure of attendance statewide.

Judicial Conduct

Also in July, the Supreme Court approved new rules for the Commission on Judicial Conduct which open the Commission's formal proceedings to the public and the media. The Commission is the constitutional body that investigates complaints against state and local judges.

For the first time since the Commission was created 20 years ago, the public will be able to view formal hearings involving judges charged with judicial misconduct. Prior to the new rules, all of the proceedings were closed and confidential until a recommendation was filed with the Supreme Court at the conclusion of the Commission's deliberations.

FALL

Juvenile Detention Centers

Deterioration of juvenile detention centers in the state, which are under the auspices of courts and probation, has been a concern of the courts for some time. As a result a Supreme Court committee reviewed conditions of juvenile detention centers throughout the state in 1989 and prepared a plan to improve them. The study found that conditions in many detention centers were unsafe for children and staff and under-funded.

In September, a new Santa Cruz County juvenile detention center was dedicated in Nogales. Construction of this detention center was one of the first major projects following the study of conditions.

In addition to making improvements and building new centers, like the one in Santa Cruz County, the report suggested that statewide standards be established for detention centers. A project to develop those standards has begun.

CASA Five Years Old

A special five-year birthday was celebrated in October for the Court Appointed Special Advocate program in Arizona. A CASA is a specially trained volunteer who advises the court about the best interest of a child who has been made a ward of the court, usually as a result of severe neglect or abuse. The CASA helps to ensure progress is made to achieve a permanent home for the child quickly and sensitively.

The program began as a pilot project in Maricopa County in 1985 and has since spread to 11 counties and operates through a network of 300 volunteers.

Judicial Collections

Success in improving the "business" of the courts often depends on the resources local courts have to implement new business management plans. To help promote business management, the Legislature set up a fund to make money available to courts for operational resources such as new automation systems.

In fall 1990, Navajo County Superior Court and Tucson Municipal Court became the first courts to receive a state grant from the Judicial Collection Enhancement Fund. The courts will use the grants to fund personnel and automation enhancements in collections and sentence enforcement.

Goal-oriented

We are proud of the achievements of the past year. They reflect our overall goals. In the administration of the courts we strive toward accessibility, efficiency and providing quality justice for the citizens of the state. It's exciting to know that as we move closer to the magical year 2000, the Arizona court system has such a solid foundation on which we can build our goals.

The Arizona Supreme Court

STRUCTURE

Five Justices sit on the Arizona Supreme Court. The Chief and Vice Chief Justice are elected by their peers. The Chief Justice serves a five year term and may have consecutive terms. The Vice Chief Justice serves a term determined by the entire court. Historically, the Vice Chief Justice has usually been elected by his peers to succeed the Chief Justice at the expiration of his term.

JURISDICTION

The jurisdiction of the Supreme Court, as provided in Article VI, Section 5 of the Arizona Constitution, includes appellate jurisdiction, the issuance of extraordinary writs and the power to make rules relative to any procedural matter in any court. The Supreme Court may review a decision of the intermediate appellate court when someone files a "petition for review". Death penalty cases are appealed directly to the Supreme Court.

Legislation passed in 1989 gave the Court of Appeals direct jurisdictions when a life sentence is imposed. The decisions of the Court of Appeals in life sentence cases are subject to the filing of a petition for review in the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court exercises its rule making authority by the "Rule 28" process, the rule of procedure that permits any person, association or agency to petition for adoption, amendment or repeal of rules or procedures for the Arizona courts.

The Supreme Court regulates the State Bar of Arizona, the admission of new attorneys to the practice of law and decides attorney-discipline cases filed in the Court. The Court also serves as the final decision-making body on judicial disciplinary recommendations filed by the Commission on Judicial Conduct.

FY 90 Case Activity:

Petitions for Review made up 61.9% of all cases filed in FY 90. Of this percentage, criminal case petitions constituted 44% with civil case petitions adding an additional 46.2% of the petitions filed. Other case-type petitions for review made up the remaining 9.8%. The remaining 38.1% of cases filed in the Supreme Court included a relatively large number of Special Actions, Habeas Corpus and State Bar Matter filings.

Total case filings in the Arizona Supreme Court decreased slightly in FY 90 (1137) as compared with FY 89 (1163).

Court of Appeals

STRUCTURE & JURISDICTION

The Arizona Court of Appeals is a single court with two divisions and is exclusively a court of review having no original jurisdiction. The Court has jurisdiction in all proceedings appealable from the Superior Court with the exception of criminal death penalty cases which by law must be appealed directly to the Supreme Court. Cases may be transferred between each division of the Court of Appeals or to the Supreme Court.

Division One of the Court of Appeals is located in Phoenix and consists of five departments with three judges assigned to each department. Appeals from Apache, Coconino, LaPaz, Maricopa, Mohave, Navajo, Yavapai and Yuma counties are filed in Division One. Division One has statewide jurisdiction for all Writs of Certiorari concerning awards by the Industrial Commission, appeals from the Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board and all appeals from the Arizona Tax Court.

Division Two of the Court of Appeals serves the counties of Cochise, Gila, Graham, Greenlee, Pima, Pinal and Santa Cruz. It is located in Tucson and consists of two departments with three judges sitting in each department.

DIVISION ONE

Case Activity

The Court of Appeals, Division One has experienced a 17.4% increase in case filings in FY 90 over FY 89. This increase is a combination of original filings and case transfers into the Court.The change in jurisdiction from the Supreme Court to the Court of Appeals in life sentence cases resulted in 43 case filings including cases transferred from the Supreme Court and original filings. Since 1986, case filings have increased 54% in all case types.

Criminal cases for FY 90 represent the largest percentage of cases filed — 60%. Civil cases and special actions represent 30.5% while Industrial, Juvenile, Habeas Corpus, Appeals Board and Tax Appeals represent the remaining 9.5%.

The end of FY 90 found there were 30% more cases pending than at the beginning. This is due to the increase in the number of cases filed in Division One during FY 90. Criminal cases in FY 90 represented 53.8% of the total case terminations.

Court of Appeals

DIVISION TWO

Case Activity

Division Two experienced a more than 16% increase in cases filed over the previous fiscal year. The change in jurisdiction of cases involving a life sentence resulted in 47 filings including cases transferred from the Supreme Court and original filings to Division Two.

Criminal cases represent the greatest percentage of cases filed – just over 48% – with civil cases and special actions representing just under 35%. Remaining cases represent the total of all other case-types handled by the Court of Appeals, Division Two.

The increase in cases filed is compounded by a reduction in the number of cases terminated during FY 90 when compared with FY 89. There were 29% more cases pending at the end of FY 90 than at the beginning.

Superior Court

STRUCTURE & JURISDICTION

The Superior Court is the court of general jurisdiction for Arizona. There are 116 Superior Court judges located throughout the 15 counties of Arizona. Superior Court acts as the appellate court to the Justice of the Peace and Municipal Courts and its original jurisdiction extends into all case types except small claims, minor offenses and violations of city codes and ordinances. Superior Court also oversees those adults and juveniles placed on probation. In some counties, the Superior Court has separate adult and juvenile probation departments.

As part of the Superior Court, the Arizona Tax Court exists to hear tax related issues exclusively. Created by legislative action in 1988, the Tax Court is physically located in and is administered by the Superior Court in Maricopa County.

Since the 1970's, Arizona has been engaged in the general adjudication of most of the surface and groundwater rights in the state. These proceedings are being conducted under the authority of A.R.S. 45-251 to 260. One case involving the water rights of the Gila River Basin, has been assigned to the Superior Court in Maricopa County. The case involves more than 60,000 water rights claims and an estimated 25,000 parties. A second case, concerning the water rights of the Little Colorado River Basin, is assigned to the Superior Court in Greenlee County. This case consists of 11,000 claims and 3,000 parties.

The Supreme Court has appointed a Special Master to hear contested cases arising from these adjudications. The Master's compensation and expenses are fixed by the Court and paid out of the fund of filing fees paid by claimants in these two cases.

FY 90 Case Activity:

Total cases filed (original filings and cases transferred in) during FY 90 numbered 148,606. Civil and domestic relations cases filed represent 65% of this total; total criminal filings represent an additional 20% of this number. The remaining 15% are probate and juvenile cases.

There were nearly 144,900 case dispositions in FY 90.

There were just under 4,000 jury and non-jury trials in FY 90 with jury trials alone representing over 43% of this total.

Arizona Tax Court cases filed for FY 90 numbered 1,318, an increase of nearly 57% compared with the total cases filed in FY 89. The majority of cases filed in FY 90 (88.2%) were tax cases for $5,000 or more or involving property with a market value of $100,000. There were 976 case dispositions in FY 90.

Case Trends FY 86-90

Since FY 86, cases filed statewide in Superior Court have increased more than 14% while terminations have shown a slightly more than 19% increase over the same period.

Justice of the Peace Courts

STRUCTURE & JURISDICTION

Justice of the Peace Courts are established according to precinct boundaries as determined by each County Board of Supervisors. Traffic related cases make up the majority of the cases heard in Justice Courts.

In FY 90, civil filings within the Justice Courts included exclusive jurisdiction in cases filed under $500, small claims filings (up to $1,000), civil filings between $500 and $2,500 (concurrent jurisdiction with Superior Court), and forcible entry and detainer (where rental value does not exceed $750 per month and damages do not exceed $2,500).

Petitions for Order of Protection in domestic violence cases and Petitions for Injunction Against Harassment are also heard in Justice Courts.

Justice Courts handle non-traffic misdemeanor cases, failure to appear cases in traffic, and misdemeanor criminal cases and hold felony preliminary hearings.

FY 90 Case Activity:

Total cases filed numbered slightly more than 638,100 in FY 90 for Justice Courts statewide. Criminal Traffic and Civil Traffic filings represent more than 66% of the cases filed while Small Claims/ Other Civil cases represent nearly 19%. The remaining cases represent misdemeanor and felony-related cases filed.

During FY 90, there were more than 612,600 cases disposed including 191 jury trials and 44, 986 bench trials statewide.

Case Trends FY 86–90

Justice Courts statewide have experienced a 15% increase in cases filed since FY 86. Cases filed reached a peak in FY 87. While subsequent years have not matched this peak, the number of cases have increased steadily each year since FY 88. Dispositions over the same period of time (FY 86-90) have increased over 13%.

Municipal Courts

STRUCTURE & JURISDICTION

Also known as magistrate or police courts, municipal courts are required by statute to be established by charter provision or municipal ordinance in all incorporated cities and towns. There were 83 municipal courts in Arizona at the end of FY 90.

Municipal courts have concurrent jurisdiction with Justice of the Peace Courts on all traffic-related cases occurring within the city or town limits. Municipal courts also handle violations of city or town ordinances, Petitions for Order of Protection in Domestic Violence cases and Petitions for Injunction Against Harassment.

Traffic cases (civil and criminal) represent the greatest amount of court activity in municipal courts, with non-traffic criminal misdemeanor cases a smaller proportion of the cases filed.

Municipal courts have no civil jurisdiction except in domestic violence cases.

FY 90 Case Activity:

During FY 90, 1,055,537 cases were filed in municipal courts. Criminal and civil traffic represent over 80% of these cases while misdemeanor cases make up the remaining caseload.

Municipal courts statewide reported 1,073,026 dispositions. A total of 9,776 trials were heard in municipal courts with non-jury trials representing more than 90% of this trial activity.

Case Trends FY 86–90

Between FY 86 and FY 90, cases filed in municipal courts have increased more than 17%. Over this same period, dispositions increased by slightly more than 18%.

Support Services to the Arizona Courts

Appellate Courts

While the Chief Justice exercises the Supreme Court's administrative authority over all the courts in the state, support for this function comes from the Clerk of the Supreme Court, staff attorneys who provide in-depth legal research and the Administrative Office of the Courts.

The two divisions of the Court of Appeals receive support services from their respective clerk's offices, legal staff and as requested from the Administrative Office of the Courts.

Supreme Court Clerk's Office

The Clerk's office is responsible for assisting the Court in managing and processing the Court's appellate litigation filed with the Clerk of Court, including publication and distribution of court opinions, memorandum decisions and orders. Responsibilities of the Clerk of Court include distribution of proposed rule changes for comment, statistical reporting and improvement projects related to case management and automated docketing. Other duties are performed as required by law, court rule and order of the Court. The Clerk's office employs a staff of 10.

Supreme Court Legal Staff

Legal assistance to the Arizona Supreme Court is provided by staff attorneys, lawyers with at least five years of previous experience in the practice of law, and law clerks. Staff attorney positions are assigned to work on memoranda related to Petitions for Review and Petitions for Special Actions. Staff attorneys also work in specialized areas of cases heard by the Court.

Among the duties performed, staff attorneys write memoranda in death cases, on Rules of Court issues and submissions and on state bar matters.

Law clerks work for individual Justices of the Supreme Court. Generally recent law school graduates, law clerks are assigned a variety of tasks and assignments as directed by the Justice.

Clerk of the Court, Court of Appeals, Divisions One and Two

The Clerks of the Court of Appeals, Divisions One and Two, are responsible for handling all filings, issuing writs, orders, judgments and decrees as required. They are also responsible for the administration of their courts as well as the keeping of all books of record and the performance of all other duties as required by law or by order of the court. Division One, located in Phoenix, employs a staff of 19; Division Two is located in Tucson and employs a staff of 9.

Court of Appeals Legal Staff

Legal assistance for Divisions One and Two consists of "central staff", attorneys who have passed the bar and law clerks. Staff attorneys are assigned to a variety of tasks within the specialized areas of cases heard by the court: criminal appeals, civil appeals, workers' compensation appeals and tax appeals. Generally, staff attorneys perform research, draft legal memoranda, prepare orders, screen appeals for jurisdiction, track civil and criminal cases, screen cases for the scheduling of hearings, review dockets to ensure parties are complying with court rules and orders, review petitions for post conviction relief and assist in special projects as directed by the chief judge.

Law clerks, generally recent law school graduates, work for a particular judge and perform legal research as directed by that judge.

Administrative Office of the Courts

The Arizona Constitution provides "The Supreme Court shall appoint an administrative director and staff who shall serve at its pleasure to assist the chief justice in discharging his administrative duties." (Arizona Constitution, Article VI, Sec. 7)

To meet the challenges of today's court system environment, the Administrative Office of the Courts is structured to provide a wide range of services to the courts of Arizona. Nine divisions specializing in areas related to specific functions and operations make up today's Administrative Office of the Courts.

Administrative Director

Appointed by the Supreme Court, the Director is responsible for the overall supervision, management and operation of the Administrative Office of the Courts.

Deputy Director

The Deputy Director reports to the Administrative Director and is responsible for providing day-to-day supervision and oversight of the operations of the Administrative Office of the Courts. The Deputy Director serves as the Administrative Director in the Director's absence.

Administrative Services Division

The Administrative Services Division primarily provides services in the areas of personnel, legal services, finance, budget and facilities management to all Supreme Court staff. The division has secondary responsibility to all other court levels throughout the state and provides information to the executive and legislative branches of government and to the general public.

Adult Services Division

The Adult Services Division is responsible for the effective statewide administration of criminal justice programs and adult probation services. This division interfaces with a variety of court and non-court agencies throughout Arizona.

Automation Services Division

The Automation Services Division handles the day-to-day automation needs of the Administrative Office of the Courts while also working to coordinate, plan, maintain and support efforts to further the integration of automation in the courts statewide.

Court Services Division

The Court Services Division assists the Judicial Department in meeting current needs by providing technical assistance to all courts, research and analysis to courts and other agencies, the collection of statistical data as well as the development and implementation of child support programs and procedures. The Court Services Division is also responsible for regulating defensive driving school diversion programs, providing staff support for committees developed by the Administrative Office of the Courts, the Arizona Judicial Council and the Committee on Court Reform.

Dependent Children Services Division

The Dependent Children Services Division focuses on programs designed to assure the best interests of Arizona's dependent children are served by providing a system of advocacy and review. The division oversees the management and coordination of the Court Appoint Special Advocate (CASA) program and the Foster Care Review Board (FCRB). Combined, both programs utilize 600 volunteers statewide.

Education Services Division

The Education Services Division sponsors statewide conferences and seminars, oversees the annual reporting process that validates compliance with the mandatory 16-hour continuing education programs, produces audio-visual materials, conducts faculty development programs and responds to the educational needs of the judicial system. Arizona is a national leader in requiring on-going education and training for court employees at all levels.

Judicial Collection Enhancement Division

The Judicial Collection Enhancement Division provides funds and assistance to courts statewide to enhance their ability to collect monies owing for fines, restitution, child support and to enhance the ability to process criminal and juvenile delinquency cases. The division coordinates the distribution of funds and other resources to fund local court projects and personnel.

Juvenile Justice Services Division

The Juvenile Justice Services Division is responsible for coordination of juvenile court and probation activities consistent with state constitutional, statutory and administrative requirements and assisting in the effective administration of juvenile justice programs.

Planning and Public Affairs

As part of the Administrative Director's office, Planning and Public Affairs was created in 1989 to coordinate administrative activities between the Administrative Office of the Courts, the Supreme Court, the Arizona Judicial Council, the Committee on Court Reform, the Arizona Legislature and the community.

Adult Probation

Probation services provide a variety of programs as sentencing options for the Court. In many instances, probation is utilized as an alternative to incarceration in county jails, the Department of Corrections or in conjunction with incarceration. Probation is the predominant sentence and criminal sanction imposed on defendants convicted of felony offenses in the Superior Court.

Defendants placed on probation are supervised by Adult Probation Officers and as a condition of probation may be required to serve up to a year in jail, submit to regular drug testing, attend residential treatment or counseling as directed or enroll in and complete job training or literacy programs. Defendants may also be required to be employed, pay restitution to victims, pay costs associated with their court involvement and adhere to a variety of other restrictions and requirements.

On June 30, 1990, 28,271 people were on adult probation in Arizona to the Superior Court in the 15 counties of the state.

In addition to standard probation, two specialized sentencing programs are available as sentencing alternatives. The Adult Intensive Probation Supervision program is a highly structured, surveillance-oriented "home arrest" program for medium risk offenders. Teams of two or three probation officers regularly monitor and manage this type of sentence. Persons on Intensive Probation may be ordered to complete the state's Shock Incarceration Program. They are also required to be employed full time or in school, complete mandatory community service and pay restitution and court costs from earnings before meeting most other obligations. These requirements are in addition to other terms of probation. The team is required by law to maintain mandatory regular contact with the probationer at irregular and unannounced times any time during a 24-hour day.

Another sentencing option is the Community Punishment Program. Its purpose is to divert offenders from the prison and county jail populations. Services, such as electronic monitoring, specialized drug counseling, psychological or psychiatric assistance and other unique programs, are provided to meet the needs of failure-prone probationers.

Probation in Arizona provides the courts and the community with ways of treating each person individually while facilitating rehabilitation and integration back into society.

Juvenile Probation

The Arizona Supreme Court is charged with the responsibility for the over all supervision of juvenile justice programs and funds for juvenile court and probation services. Funds that the county governments have provided to juvenile departments have been significantly augmented by the Arizona Legislature through mandated assessments and appropriations to ensure that alternatives to incarceration are available. A brief summary of juvenile programs and funds can be found in the COMMISSIONS/ COMMITTEES/PROGRAMS/FUNDS section of this report.

Two significant areas of the juvenile court system in Arizona have received a great deal of attention in FY 90.

Arizona Juvenile Detention Enhancement Project

Much work has been done in the area of juvenile detention centers. The Juvenile Detention Center Enhancement Project, initiated in FY 89, was established to implement a more humane and constitutionally sound juvenile detention center program. Mandatory and advisory detention center standards are being developed. Funding to enhance the security and safety of county detention centers has also been provided.

To enhance these efforts, there has been ongoing training of detention center supervisory and line staff to provide a system responsive to the needs of the court and the juveniles placed within the juvenile court system.

Literacy Education And Reading Network

Recent studies have found that the vast majority of individuals who become involved in crime are illiterate. In an effort to provide those most likely to become involved with the courts an opportunity to develop reading and writing skills that will enable them to be productive members of society, the Arizona Supreme Court in 1987 began funding computer literacy labs. After nearly three years, these labs are proving successful in reaching probationers and those most at risk of becoming involved with the courts.

The Literacy Education And Reading Network (LEARN) project is the court's effort to assist probation in Arizona in its planning for skill development of their clients. The literacy labs have also evolved into learning centers that offer an array of services designed not only to help probationers and the "at risk" population learn to read and write, but also to acquire essential life skills.

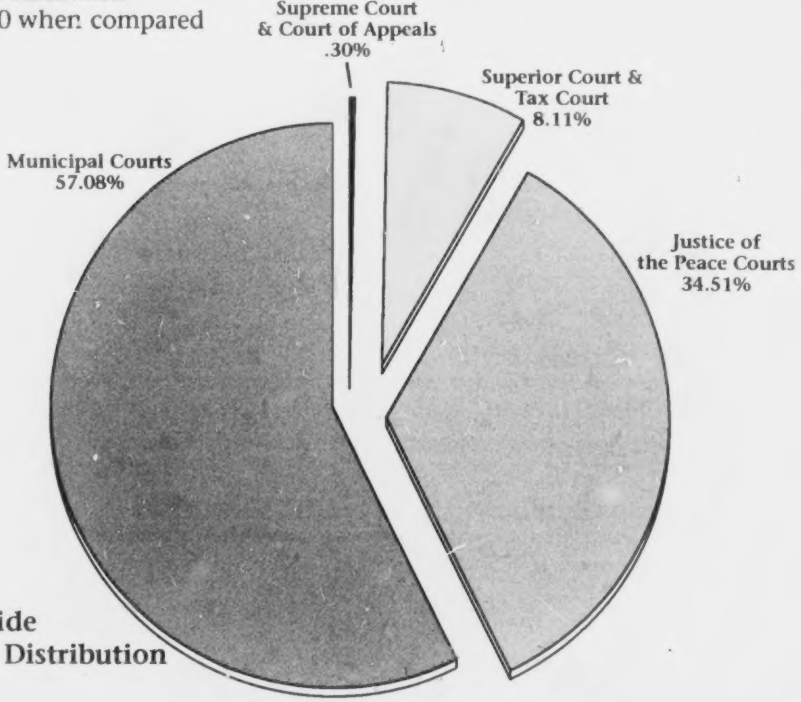
Statewide Filings

Total cases filed statewide for the courts of Arizona during FY 90 numbered 1,849,286. This is a slight decrease in filings from FY 89 when 1,858,091 cases were filed. This slight reduction in case filings represents fewer cases filed in the Supreme Court (26) and the Municipal Courts (22,067). However, both divisions of the Court of Appeals as well as Superior and Justice of the Peace Courts saw increases in total cases filed during FY 90 when compared to FY 89.

Divisions One and Two of the Court of Appeals reported a combined 17% increase in cases filed (664) during FY 90 compared with FY 89.

Superior Court and the Tax Court combined experienced an 8.1% increase in cases filed (11,927) in FY 90 when compared with FY 89. However, there was a 57.7% increase in cases filed (482) in the Tax Court in FY 90 over FY 89. Civil and criminal cases accounted for the greatest increase in Superior Court (6,632 and 2,080 respectively) with domestic relations and probate cases increasing slightly. There was a 2% decrease in juvenile cases filed during FY 90. Nearly 4,000 jury and non-jury trials were handled statewide in the Superior Court.

Cases filed in Justice of the Peace and Municipal Courts accounted for 91.6% of all cases filed (1,693,651) during FY 90. Traffic cases (civil and criminal traffic) totalled 68.7% of all cases filed in FY 90.



Statewide Filings Distribution

Statewide Revenue

The "business" of the courts is to dispense justice. The revenue collected from this responsibility represents a variety of court-connected activities that include the assessment and collection of:

- fines/sanctions/assessments/forfeitures;
- surcharges on above (used to support various programs);
- fees charged for filing and other services;
- miscellaneous (includes interest on accounts, sale of unclaimed property, reversion of unclaimed monies)
- program-generated fees (juvenile and adult probation service fees, and family counseling fees).

During FY 90, the Arizona courts collected $95,359,818 from all sources. This is a 13% increase over revenues collected in FY 89. Not included as revenues collected but handled nonetheless by the courts, was $245,596,303 in trust fund monies that "passed through" the courts. This included bail bonds posted, restitution payments, child support payments and other miscellaneous monies.

During FY 90, Superior Court handled $24,833,668 more child support money than FY 89 – a nearly 22% increase in the amount of monies collected and distributed. Restitution monies that passed through the courts increased nearly 29% ($1,177,022) in FY 90 over FY 89.

Revenues collected by courts statewide are distributed to state, county and city general funds as well as specific funds per statute. Virtually all monies generated by the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals are distributed to the state.

Statewide Expenditures

A combination of sources provide funding for court operations. State appropriations provide primary funding for the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals; the counties fund Superior and Justice Courts and the cities fund the Municipal Courts. Other funding comes from various federal and state programs, fees and other sources.

The Arizona courts expended $215,862,120 in FY 90, an increase of 13.7% over FY 89 expenditures.

Primary budget sources are the base of court financing. Other funding sources, derived from programs and fees, supplement court expenditures and fund various programs. For example, the Judicial Collection Enhancement Fund, surcharges on monies owed the courts, is used to supplement and enhance court collections.

In FY 90, 70% of the expenditures from primary budget sources were direct personnel costs (salary and benefits). Primary funding sources made up 74.4% of total court expenditures, with state program funds accounting for 22.8%. Fees collected were 1.7% and federal programs were 0.3% of the expenditures. The remainder is made up of other expenditures.

Commissions, Committees, Programs and Funds of the Arizona Court System

Commissions

The Arizona Supreme Court utilizes various commissions, committees, programs and funds to address specific needs related to the Arizona Judiciary. Commissions have been established by state constitution for merit selection of judges and judicial conduct review. Committees, such as the Judicial Ethics Advisory Committee, have been created to address a broad spectrum of issues facing the Arizona court system as it moves toward court reform and the twenty-first century. Specialized programs have been created by the Supreme Court utilizing statutory appropriations to improve case processing, court efficiency and public access for all citizens of Arizona.

Commissions on Judicial Appointments

The Arizona Constitution provides for merit selection of judges for the Supreme Court, Court of Appeals and Superior Court in counties with a population of 150,000 or more. The Constitution also permits counties with lesser populations to use the same process.

Three commissions exist under this Constitutional provision: the Commission on Appellate Court Appointments, the Commission on Trial Court Appointments in Maricopa County and the Commission on Trial Court Appointments in Pima County.

Each commission consists of nine members — five non-lawyer members who are selected by the governor, three attorney members recommended to the governor by the bar and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court who presides over the commission but only votes in the case of a tie. The eight non-judicial members must be confirmed by the State Senate.

When a judicial vacancy occurs, the commission forwards at least three names to the governor to be appointed to the bench. When three or four names are submitted, no more than two of the nominees can be from the same political party. When more than four are nominated, no more than 60 percent of the total can be from any one political party.

If the commission does not forward nominees to the governor within 60 days of a vacancy, the governor has 60 days thereafter to make an appointment. If the governor does not select a nominee of the commission within 60 days after the names are submitted, the Chief Justice makes the appointment.

Judges appointed under this process are placed on the ballot for retention by a majority of votes cast in the general election following an initial two-year term. If retained, the judge serves a full regular term. If not retained, the position becomes vacant 60-days after the general election and the commission process begins again.

Commission on Judicial Conduct

Established in 1970 pursuant to Article VI.I of the Arizona Constitution, the Commission on Judicial Conduct reviews and investigates when indicated, complaints against all judges. New rules approved by the Supreme Court in July, 1990, opened the commission's formal proceedings to the public and the news media.

The commission investigates the following matters: a judge who pleads guilty, no-contest or is found guilty of a felony in state or Federal court; the disability of a judge that seriously interferes with the performance of judicial duties and is or is likely to become permanent; action by a judge that constitutes willful misconduct in office; action by a judge that constitutes willful and persistent failure to perform duties; action that constitutes habitual intemperance; conduct that is prejudicial to the administration of justice that brings the judicial office into disrepute; and complaints involving alleged violations of the Code of Judicial Conduct adopted by the Arizona Supreme Court.

The commission does not have the authority to censure, suspend or remove a judge from office. The commission can only recommend to the Supreme Court such action be taken after it has conducted a formal inquiry by holding an evidentiary hearing.

The commission has 11 members and is made up of two judges from the Court of Appeals, two Superior Court judges, one Justice of the Peace and one Municipal Court judge appointed by the Supreme Court. The Board of Governors of the State Bar of Arizona appoints two lawyer members and the governor appoints three citizen members who must first be confirmed by the Senate.

Councils and Committees

The Arizona Judicial Council is the representative advisory committee to the Arizona Supreme Court. It was established by the Supreme Court to assist the Court in development and implementation of policies for central administrative direction, uniform court operations and coordination of court services. Representatives from all court levels as well as a representative of the State Bar of Arizona and a public member sit on this council.

Seven standing committees of the council were created and charged to (1) improve the quality of justice; (2) increase access to the courts and (3) improve the efficiency of the courts.

Jurisdictional Advisory Committees

The Appellate Court Committee is advisory to the Arizona Judicial Council on Appellate Court matters.

The Superior Court Committee is advisory to the Arizona Judicial Council on Superior Court matters with standing advisory Committees on Probation, Juvenile Courts and Child Support/Visitation.

The Limited Jurisdiction Committee is advisory to the Arizona Judicial Council on Justice of the Peace and Municipal Court-related matters.

Four statewide advisory committees also report to the Arizona Judicial Council.

Statewide Advisory Committees

The Committee on Judicial Education and Training is advisory to the Arizona Judicial Council on the development, implementation and monitoring of educational policies and standards for court employees statewide.

The Committee on Technology is advisory to the Arizona Judicial Council to oversee the design and implementation of a statewide judicial data communications network and the monitoring and coordination of court automation projects. This committee also recommends technology standards for statewide application to the Arizona judicial system.

The Committee on Legislation is advisory to the Arizona Judicial Council on all legislation affecting the operations and procedures of the judiciary in Arizona.

The Committee on Rules is advisory to the Arizona Judicial Council on the adoption of new rules and/or recommended changes to existing rules.

Also reporting to the Arizona Judicial Council are AD HOC committees on:

Defensive Driving
Risk Management/Court Security
DUI/Criminal Case Processing
Records Management
Jury Management
Indigent Defense

The Committee on Court Reform is an advisory committee to the Arizona Supreme Court established by the Chief Justice to implement court reform efforts in Arizona. The committee is responsible for planning strategies for improvements to the statewide court system as recommended by the Commission on the Courts and approved by the Arizona Supreme Court.

The Subcommittee on Court Reorganization reports to the Committee on Court Reform on the structural, operational, organizational, funding, access, procedural and practical issues related to court reorganization.

The Subcommittee on Rules reports to the Committee on Court Reform on the rule changes necessary to bring about court improvements.

The Subcommittee on Statutory Change reports to the Committee on Court Reform on legislative proposals necessary to bring about change in areas other than court reorganization, such as alternative dispute resolution techniques.

The Local Advisory Groups in each of the 15 Arizona counties provide local input and act as a sounding board for issues related to court reform in Arizona. They report their findings to the Committee on Court Reform and the Supreme Court.

Judicial Ethics Advisory Committee

Established by the Supreme Court in 1976, the Judicial Ethics Advisory Committee receives and researches inquiries on judicial ethics. Formal advisory opinions are forwarded to the Supreme Court for filing and distribution to the judiciary and the bar. These inquiries and opinions generally relate to a judge's involvement in non-judicial, political, community or private matters.

The Advisory Committee consists of seven members, representing the Appellate, Superior and Limited Jurisdiction Courts.

Programs

Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) Program

The Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) Program began in Maricopa County on October 1, 1985. On June 20, 1989, Supreme Court Rule 22.1, Rules of Procedure for the Juvenile Court, was amended to allow for the appointment of a guardian ad litem for the child in every dependency action where the petition alleges abuse or neglect. This change was made to conform with PL 100-294, the Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act. CASA volunteers can be appointed to effectively perform the duties of a lay guardian ad litem.

The CASA Program utilizes carefully screened, specially trained volunteers appointed by the presiding juvenile court judge to act as an advocate for children who have become wards of the court as a result of severe abuse and neglect or abandonment. CASA volunteers speak exclusively for the best interests of the child.

During FY 90, the number of CASA programs expanded from eight to eleven with the addition of new programs in Mohave, Cochise and Graham counties.

Foster Care Review Board

The Foster Care Review Board system was established by A.R.S. 8-515.04 in September, 1978. The Foster Care Review Board (FCRB) is comprised of five-member volunteer citizen review boards appointed in each county by the presiding juvenile court judge. Currently fifty-six such local boards exist statewide. Each board reviews assigned cases of children who have been placed in out-of-home care by the Department of Economic Security for reasons of abandonment, abuse or neglect. The cases are reviewed every six months as long as the child remains out of the home.

The review boards gather information and make recommendations to the juvenile court as to whether or not reasonable efforts are being made to reunite the child with the family, or if progress is being made to achieve a permanent plan if a return to the home is not feasible. There are currently more than 2,575 such cases involving 4,000 children.

Overseeing the policies and procedures of the local boards is a State Foster Care Review Board comprised of chairpersons from the fifteen counties and five at-large members. The State Board meets quarterly and provides an annual report to the governor and legislature regarding the status of foster care in Arizona. The FCRB was one of the first such citizen review boards in the nation and has been in existence for twelve years.

Defensive Driving School Program

Legislation enacted in 1989, authorized the use of defensive driving schools as a court diversion program and gave supervisory authority to the Supreme Court.

Effective July 1, 1990, most minor civil traffic violators became eligible to attend defensive driving school once every two years, with attendance records kept on a statewide data base to prevent multiple attendances. During FY 90, 136,382 people were diverted from the Courts to defensive driving classes statewide.

Probation Programs: State Aid for Probation Services

Pursuant to A..R.S. 12-262, the state aid program provides supplemental funding to each county to be used primarily for payment of salaries of probation officers supervising adults or juveniles on probation to the Superior Court. FY 90 appropriations were $1,705,400 and expenditures were $1,531,279.

State Aid Enhancement

The State Aid Enhancement program was authorized by the legislature during the 1983 Special Session when the commitment was made for the state to subsidize adult probation services in order to maintain the statutory ratio of adult probationers to probation officers 60:1 (A.R.S. 12-251).

Adult Intensive Probation Supervision

A special probation program designed to divert serious, nonviolent offenders from overcrowded prisons was established in 1983. The program, which was implemented on July 1, 1985, is mandated by A.R. S. 13-913 through 13-920. It is a punishment-oriented sentencing alternative, which emphasizes enhanced supervision and surveillance of offenders, public protection and the collection of restitution for victims.

On June 30, 1990, 2,099 offenders (including those on "shock" incarceration) were supervised under this program.

Community Punishment Program

This program allows the Superior Court in each county to create a community punishment program for persons placed on regular or intensive probation. Pursuant to A.R.S. 12-299, the program is designed to "provide for increased conditions of probation and community based programs and services that emphasize supervision, surveillance, control, public protection, community work services, restitution and victims' rights and that provide opportunities for rehabilitation and treatment."

The program currently exists in six Arizona counties. During FY 90, 1,111 offenders were assigned to the Community Punishment Program.

Juvenile Intensive Probation Supervision

Pursuant to A.R.S. 8-271, the Juvenile Intensive Probation Supervision (JIPS) Program is intended to be a highly structured, closely supervised program with emphasis on surveillance, treatment, education, work and home detention. This is achieved by providing a significantly higher level of supervision than is found in traditional probation programs. The goal of the program is to balance control of the juvenile offender through strict supervision with rehabilitative efforts designed to address the particular problems of each youth.

On June 30, 1990, 569 juvenile offenders were supervised under Juvenile Intensive Probation Supervision.

Funds

Judicial Collection Enhancement Fund

In 1989, S.B. 1233 was signed into law creating the Judicial Collection Enhancement Fund (JCEF). JCEF funding is derived from court diversion fees, clerk fees and time payment fees collected by the courts. The fund is used to improve, maintain, and enhance the court's ability to collect and manage monies owed, including restitution, child support, fines, fees and civil penalties. The fund also supports court automation projects designed to improve case processing and the administration of justice.

Staff was hired in FY 90 to develop the JCEF program. During this period, the program collected $2,300,892 from the Arizona courts, established court funding eligibility requirements and provided court training in JCEF application procedures.

Adult Probation Services Fund

Pursuant to A.R.S. 13-901, as a condition of probation, a monthly fee of not less than thirty dollars, unless otherwise assessed a lesser fee by a judge, shall be collected from each probationer for the Probation Services Fund. Monies collected from this fund are expended in accordance with A.R.S. 12-267 and utilized to supplement county appropriations for the Superior Court adult probation department.

More than $3,000,000 in adult probation services fees was collected by Superior Court in FY 90. In FY 90, more than $2,900,000 was distributed from this fund to supplement adult probation appropriations statewide.

Juvenile Probation Services Fees Fund

Pursuant to A.R.S. 8-230.01, a juvenile probation fee shall be collected for deposit in the juvenile probation services fund. Pursuant to A.R.S. 12-268, this fund is primarily used to pay for training, salaries and employee-related benefits of juvenile court personnel. This fund also allows expenditures to improve, maintain or expand juvenile probation services.

In FY 90, $634,432 in Juvenile Probation Services fees were collected by the courts. Expenditures in FY 90 totalled $527,311.

Juvenile Crime Reduction Fund

Pursuant to A.R.S. 41-2401(d)(4), twelve percent of the Criminal Justice Enhancement Fund is directed to the Supreme Court for the Juvenile Crime Reduction Fund (JCRF) to reduce juvenile crime on a statewide basis. The funds are then awarded to state, county, city and tribal entities and school districts throughout the state. They are used to support such things as Project D.A.R.E., school resource officers and school All Star programs. The fund expended $1,162,933 on forty-four programs throughout the state in FY 90.

Funds

Juvenile Treatment Services Fund

The Juvenile Treatment Services Fund, established by A.R.S. 8-230.02, is the primary funding source for PIC-ACT and residential treatment. PIC-ACT (Progressively Increasing Consequences Act) is designed to fund programs to reduce the number of repetitive juvenile offenders and to provide services, including treatment, testing, independent living programs and residential, foster and shelter care, for children referred to the juvenile court for incorrigibility or delinquency offenses.

The majority of the expenditures for treatment are used to place children in residential treatment centers. This fund allows the juvenile courts to maximize impact by employing probation staff and contracting for a wide variety of services necessary to address the needs of all juveniles under the supervision of the courts, from first-time offenders to juveniles adjudicated delinquent or incorrigible. In FY 90, the initial allocation to the local juvenile courts for the purpose of providing treatment services to court referred juveniles increased by 8% over FY 89.

Family Counseling

Pursuant to A.R.S. 8-261 through 8-265, family counseling programs are established to assist the juvenile divisions of the Superior Court. Family counseling services are utilized by the juvenile court to strengthen family relationships and help prevent juvenile delinquency.

In FY 90, more than 2,700 children statewide received family counseling services. The legislature appropriated $321,800 for family counseling services in FY 90. Family Counseling expenditures in FY 90 were $287,963.

Case Processing Assistance Fund (CPAF)

The Case Processing Assistance Fund (CPAF) is created by a nine-percent assessment of the Criminal Justice Enhancement Fund surcharge on all fines and penalties assessed and collected by the courts for criminal, traffic and game and fish violations. A.R.S. 41-2401(D)(7) and 41-2401(H) specify that those CPAF monies be used to assist courts in enhancing their ability to process criminal and juvenile delinquency cases.

In FY 90, CPAF funded 19 programs totalling $1,071,084 in 9 Superior Court locations, 2 Justice of the Peace Courts, 4 Municipal Courts, 2 special projects, the Committee on Court Reform and the Lower Court Information System (LOCIS). The awards were made in 11 different counties, predominantly for funding of judges pro tempore and support staff. Funds were also provided to automate courts to enhance case processing.

In FY 90, total CPAF expenditures amounted to $1,027,970.

Drug Enforcement Account

Drug Enforcement Account (DEA) grant funds assist court and public defender grantees in meeting adjudication, case processing, indigent defense and probation supervision costs associated with increasing caseloads and related workload, pursuant to A.R.S. 41-2402. Drug Enforcement Account funds enhance the processing of drug-related cases through the courts by preventing adjudication backlogs in Arizona's "war on drugs".

In FY 90, $2,187,022 was allocated to the judiciary by the Arizona Criminal Justice Commission. The program expended more than $2,056,000 for the same period.

Public Defender Training Fund

Pursuant to A.R.S. 12-117, this fund provides monies for the exclusive purpose of County Public Defender training. All training offered or attended is to be directly related to the practice of criminal law and representation of criminal defendants, and must enhance the ability to perform the specific responsibilities of a public defender.

There was $259,184 deposited in the fund by the courts from time payment service fees assessed in FY 90. Allocation of monies collected is made to each county public defender office in proportion to the number of felony cases assigned to that office in the last fiscal year.

COURT EXPENDITURES
Narrative Summary

The statewide expenditure information is provided here for each of the court levels comprising the Arizona judiciary. The first table shows specific line-item expenditures for FY 90. These data were compiled from Supreme Court financial records and responses to the Supreme Court survey of expenditures distributed in July 1990, and are unaudited.

Major expenditure categories shown on the table represent monies from four sources:

> PRIMARY BUDGET: Expenditures from appropriated funds from the court's primary funding source, either the state (Supreme Court and Court of Appeals), the county (Superior and Justice Courts) or the city or town (Municipal Courts);
> STATE PROGRAM FUNDS: Expenditures from state program monies begun or renewed by the Arizona legislature and distributed to the courts;
> FEDERAL PROGRAM FUNDS: Expenditures from federal program monies begun or renewed by the U.S. Congress and distributed to state agencies;
> PROGRAM FEE FUNDS: Expenditures from collections authorized by statute to reimburse all or part of the expenses of particular state programs.

Primary budget categories are kept as general as possible because line-item definitions for the state, the 15 counties and the 83 municipalities that constitute Arizona primary funding sources vary widely.

Total expenditures in the Arizona courts increased from $189,795,250 in FY 89 to $215,862,120, an increase of 13.7%. Primary budget expenditures of $160,503,803 account for 74.4% of the total. Salary expenditures of $96,885,411 account for the largest portion of this category.

Outside primary budget expenditures, state program funds account for the next largest group; $49,152,987, or 22.8%. Federal and fee monies together account for the remaining 2.8%.

The second table shows this year's state funding contribution to the Arizona courts to be $60,151,426, or 27.9%, which is close to the previous year's 27.4%. The amount of state monies, however, increased from $51,991,316 in FY 89, or 15.7%. Much of this is due to the addition of the Community Punishment Project and Defensive Driving, and increases in Court of Appeals, Drug Enforcement, and Adult Probation State Aid Enhancement expenditures.

The counties' contribution was proportionally slightly up from last year, 56.7% versus 55.0% in FY 89. The amount of county money expended increased from $104,318,840 to $122,409,804, or 17.3%. Much of this is due to increases in expenditures of appropriated primary budget funds (especially Superior court), plus the addition of Child Support Enforcement and Adult Probation Services Fees categories.

The percentage of municipal funds expended by the courts dropped slightly, from 16.3% in FY 89 to 15.0% in FY 90. Actual municipal monies expended rose from $30,973,269 to $32,042,684, or by 3.5%.

Over two-thirds (69.5%) of the total FY 90 judicial expenditures were for services at the superior court level, approximately the same as last year's proportion (69.8%).

Subsequent tables show detailed expenditure data for each court.

COURT REVENUE
Narrative Summary

The statewide revenue data is provided here for each level of the Arizona courts. The first table shows the source and distribution of revenues collected by courts in FY 90. The figures were compiled from fee reports and the annual revenue survey distributed by the Supreme Court in July 1990, and are unaudited.

Major revenue categories shown on the table represent monies collected from five sources:

FINES, SANCTIONS, MONETARY ASSESSMENTS AND FORFEITURES: Revenues from monetary penalties assessed in criminal, traffic, and juvenile matters, and bond monies that were forfeited;

SURCHARGES: Revenue from monetary assessments authorized by statute above and beyond criminal and traffic penalties and certain civil and other fees;

FEES: Revenues from collectible fees for services of the court and chargeable aspects of case processing;

OTHER REVENUE: Revenue from sources not otherwise specified;

PROGRAM COLLECTIONS: Revenue from specific collections authorized by statute to reimburse all or part of the expenditures from particular state programs.

Total revenues collected by the Arizona courts increased from $84,416,931 in FY 89 to $95,359,818 in FY 90, a rise of 13.0%. The monetary penalty category ("FINES,SANCTIONS,...") accounts for $51,615,743, or 54.1% of the total. Most of these penalty monies ($47,451,559, or 91.9%) went to county and city general funds, with the next highest amount ($1,366,215, or 2.6%) to the state Drug Enforcement Fund.

The second largest revenue category is surcharges, containing $22,024,402, or 23.1%. Most of this category is the Criminal Justice Enhancement Fund ($15,614,474, or 70.9%), followed by the Emergency Medical Services Fund ($2,083,027, or 9.5%).

Fees make up the third largest segment of court revenues, a total of $16,394,015, or 17.2%. Most of these are civil case filing and answer fees ($5,501,581, or 33.6%).

Program collections and other revenues constitute the remaining 5.6% of all court revenues.

The second table shows that cities and towns receive the largest part of court revenue; $33,527,478, or 35.2%. The amount going to cities and towns decreased a fraction of a percent, from $33,569,800 in FY 89. This revenue level was maintained despite a 22,000+ decrease in total filings in the municipal courts.

Counties were the second largest beneficiaries of court revenue, receiving $33,120,035, or 34.7%. Actual county revenue distributions climbed from $26,538,716, in FY 89 or 24.8%. Superior court revenues to the counties increased in FY 90 along with their filings. Justice court revenues to the counties in FY 90 also increased (to a lesser extent) in spite of a general leveling-off in total filings.

The state of Arizona received $28,712,305, or 30.1% of the total court revenues, primarily from surcharges in all trial courts. The actual amount of these distributions rose from $23,437,143 last year, or 22.5%. In addition to Defensive Driving (most of that shown under Supreme Court) and JCEF, increased revenues to the state between FY 89 and FY 90 occurred at all court levels irrespective of filings, primarily in CJEF and Drug Enforcement collections.

Almost half ($46,339,660, or 48.6%) of all court revenue is generated by the municipal courts, down very slightly from the 49.4% recorded in FY 89.

The third table (on the same page) shows that the Arizona courts processed $245,596,303 in "pass-through" trust monies, the majority ($137,954,964) being child-support payments processed through Superior court.

Subsequent tables show detailed revenue data for each court.

COURT PERSONNEL
Narrative Summary

The statewide summary reflects all court positions as of June 30, 1990, including positions funded from both primary and non-primary budget sources. The information was reported by the individual courts in response to the Supreme Court personnel survey mailed in July, 1990.

The total number of persons working full-time in the Arizona judicial system increased from 4,603 in FY 89 to 5,170 in FY 90, a 12.3% increase.

Most of the rise occurred in the categories of Administrative/Deputy Clerk (combined last year; 1,239 to 1,431 in FY 90), Field Probation Officer (574 to 691), Judicial Secretary/Other Court Administrative (also combined last year, 458 to 554 n FY 90), and Juvenile Detention Officer (154 to 221). The courts employed an additional 731 part-time personnel. This differs significantly from the 333 part-time employees reported in FY 89, primarily in the Other Magisterial and Juvenile Detention Administrative categories. This is primarily because most of Maricopa County's 227 "on-call" Court Commissioners and Judge Pro-Tems in Superior and Justice Courts, and 79 "on-call" Youth Supervisors in Juvenile Detention went unreported last year. The remainder appears to be moderate increases in part-time personnel distributed over many categories.

The courts also had the services of 838 regular volunteers. These volunteers include attorneys, court reporters, teachers, information desk personnel, Court Appointed Special Advocates, Foster Care Review Board members, and other professionals and non-professionals who serve as pro-tempore magistrates.

SUPREME COURT
Narrative Summary

During FY 90, a total of 1,137 cases were filed in the Supreme Court, a slight decrease from the FY 89 total of 1,163. The largest single decrease was in direct criminal appeals, from 72 cases in FY 89 to 24 cases in FY 90. This was due primarily to modification of ARS 12-120.21, which changed jurisdiction in life-imprisonment appeals from the Supreme Court to the Court of Appeals.

During FY 90, the Supreme Court disposed of 1,169 cases, a slight increase over the 1,128 cases during the previous year. (The 63 cases shown as "transferred out" are life-imprisonment appeals filed in Supreme Court prior to the jurisdiction change and subsequently transferred to the Court of Appeals.)

The difference between filings and dispositions resulted in a pending caseload decrease from 435 cases on July 1, 1989 to 396 cases on June 30, 1990.

COURT OF APPEALS - DIVISION ONE
Narrative Summary

Division One of the Court of Appeals has experienced an increase in case filings for each of the last seven years. This year, total filings (including reinstatements and transfers in) went from 2,667 last year to 3,130, up 17.4%. Total case dispositions (including cases transferred out) also increased, from 2,446 in FY 89 to 2,527, or 3.3% in FY 90.

Total criminal filings, the largest category, increased from 1,384 in FY 89 to 1,720 in FY 90. This 24.3% rise accounts for most of the overall increase in filings. Most of the increase in dispositions is distributed across criminal, special action, post-conviction relief (petitions for review), and juvenile cases.

The total pending caseload figure increased from 1,981 on July 1, 1989 to 2,584 at year-end, an increase of 30.4%.

ARIZONA TAX COURT
Narrative Summary

The Arizona Tax Court, created in 1988, serves as the statewide venue for all civil actions involving a tax, impost, or assessment. Suits may be filed using a simplified "small claims" procedure when the amount of tax is less than $5,000 or the dispute concerns valuations or classifications of property with a market value of $100,000 or less. Otherwise, cases are filed as "cases of record". The court is physically located within and administered by the Superior Court in Maricopa County, and appeals of Tax Court cases are heard in a special department of Division One of the Court of Appeals.

A total of 1,310 original cases were filed and 8 reopened in the Arizona Tax Court during FY 90, and 1,288 (97.7%) of these were cases of record. Property tax actions constituted the majority (1,191 or 90.4%) of all filings. Cases from Maricopa and Pima counties accounted for 1,225 (93.5%) of these filings.

During FY 90, a total of 976 cases were terminated, 758 (77.7%) by judgement, including 7 written opinions. As of June 30, 1990, there were 1,030 cases pending in the Tax Court.

SUPERIOR COURT
Narrative Summary

Criminal and juvenile petition statistics represent the number of persons; all other statistics represent cases.

During FY 90, total filings (including transfers in) rose from 137,891 to 148,606, a 7.8% increase.

By far the largest volume increase in total filings occurred in civil cases, the court's largest category. Civil filings surged from 54,232 in FY 89 to 60,864 in FY 90, an increase of 12.2%. The next largest superior court category, domestic relations cases, showed a slight increase in total filings (5.0%), from 32,362 in FY 89 to 33,995 this year. Total criminal filings were up by 7.7%, from 26,993 in FY 89 to 29,073 in FY 90. These three categories account for 83.4% of the superior court total new case filings.

Domestic violence petition filings in superior court increased by 19.1%, from 930 in FY 89 to 1,108 in FY 90. As with other courts, most petitions are granted and orders of protection issued.

Total case dispositions (including transfers) went from 138,783 in FY 89 to 144,857 a rise of 4.4%. The largest increase occurred in civil cases, where dispositions rose 12.0%, from 57,075 in FY 89 to 63,904 in FY 90.

There was a total increase of 3,682 pending cases between FY 89 and FY 90, a rise of 2.8%.

JUVENILE PROBATION
Narrative Summary

The number of new referrals to juvenile probation rose from 48,174 in FY 89 to 51,063 in FY 90, a 6.0% increase. In all, 29.3% of these (14,981) ended in formal petitions being filed, up slightly (3.2%) from the 14,516 resulting in petitions last year. These petitions were filed on 10,435 juveniles, down 1.8% from the 10,623 corresponding FY 89 figure. (Multiple referrals against the same juvenile normally result in only one petition.)

A total of 10,485 petitions were terminated during FY 90, which is 2.7% less than the FY 89 figure of 10,771. Of these, 7,543 (71.9%) resulted in adjudication, either by the juvenile's admission (7,184) or following a hearing (359). This number is 1.0% below the 7,621 reported in FY 89.

In all, 7,240 juveniles received dispositions following adjudication. This compares to 7,621 in FY 89, and represents a 5.0% decrease. The majority of these FY 90 dispositions (3,767, or 52.0%) concerned probation or probation with restitution, with an additional 1,364 youths (18.8%) being continued on their current probation. There were 3,929 youths removed from probation in FY 90, down 2.4% from the 4,025 terminated in FY 89. (These include terminations, revocations, and transfers.)

In FY 90, 16,212 youths were held in detention for varying periods of time. This is 4.1% greater than the 15,577 figure for FY 89. Where it has been classified, most detention is pre-adjudicatory.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE COURTS
Narrative Summary

Total filings (including transfers) rose a fraction of a percent, from 636,688 to 638,114.

Traffic cases comprise two-thirds of the workload in justice courts. Total traffic filings showed a very slight decrease, from 423,111 in FY 89 to 421,750 in FY 90. D.U.I. and civil traffic categories decreased (down 1.8% and 2.7% respectively) and criminal traffic increased (up 1.7%). Criminal cases increased by 4.9%, from 91,739 last year to 96,192 in FY 90. This is accounted for by the cumulative effect of slight increases in all but felony cases (which were down a percentage fraction). Civil cases showed a marginal decrease, from 121,838 in FY 90 to 120,172 this year. A slight increase in small claims was outweighed by small decreases in civil suits and forcible detainers.

In contrast to municipal court trends, domestic violence petition filings in justice courts decreased from 4,792 in FY 89 to 4,420 in FY 90. Harassment petitions also declined slightly, from 3,350 in FY 89 to 3,311 in FY 90. As with all courts, few are denied.

Total case dispositions (including transfers) went from 609,476 last year to 612,638 in FY 90, a marginal rise. Traffic case dispositions stayed virtually the same overall (414,034 last year versus 413,619), as well as by individual category. Criminal case dispositions increased from 78,626 to 83,310 between the two years, or by 6.0%. As with filings, increases in misdemeanor and failure to appear (FTA) categories offset a decrease in the felony category. Civil case dispositions also show the same pattern as filings, a marginal overall decrease (116,816 to 115,709) caused by decreases in civil suits and forcible detainers overshadowing an increase in small claims.

Cases added exceeded cases disposed in justice courts in FY 90, resulting in an increase of 18,874 (5.1%) in end-of-year pending cases.

MUNICIPAL COURTS
Narrative Summary

This year is the second year of decreasing filings in the municipal courts. Total filings (including transfers in) declined from 1,077,604 in FY 89 to 1,055,537 this year, a drop of 2.0%.

Traffic filings, which comprise 80.3% of municipal court caseload activity, decreased 2.9% from 872,242 in FY 89 to 847,091 in FY 90. Within the traffic category, filings decreased 3.7% in D.U.I., 2.0% in criminal traffic, and 3.0% in civil traffic categories. Criminal cases rose from 205,362 in FY 89 to 208,446 this year, a 1.5% increase. A 6.9% increase in non-traffic misdemeanors, offsetting slight decreases in the other three categories, accounts for this rise.

Municipal courts continued to experience increases in the number of petitions filed related to domestic violence and harassment. During FY 89, a total of 6,568 petitions were filed for an Order of Protection, as compared with 7,041 this year. Petitions filed for an Injunction Against Harassment rose from 3,301 last year to 3,555 in FY 90. As with all other courts, not many are denied.

Total dispositions (including transfers out) dropped from 1,084,203 last year to 1,073,026 in FY 90, a 1.0% decrease. Total traffic case dispositions decreased from 879,599 in FY 89 to 850,527 in FY 90, a drop of 3.3%. Criminal dispositions increased from 204,604 in FY 89 to 222,499 in FY 90, a rise of 8.7%. Increases in all categories (except the miniscule "felony") prevailed.

Case terminations outweighed filings in municipal courts in FY 90, resulting in a decrease of 23,433 (6.8%) in end-of-year pending cases.
